200 Attend State Police Open House

Approximately 200 persons attended an open house yesterday afternoon, held by Post 13, Hazard Barracks, Kentucky State Police.

Punch and cookies were served during the celebration honoring the 10th anniversary of the Kentucky State Police. The organization was formed in 1948 by act of the legislature.

Visitors were taken on a tour of the barracks, shown accident pictures, the confiscated gun locker, and the ammunition locker.

Troopers at the barracks explained the various items of equipment used daily by the State Police in the work. Two trooper cars, fully equipped for accident and traffic work, were on display.

Sgt. Willard Cox, assistant post commander, said today the open house was a tremendous "success." He expressed his appreciation to the public for their interest and enthusiasm, and reminded the public that the Kentucky State Police is there servant at all times.

The local post is one of 19 posts in the State.

Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield officially joined three other candidates yesterday in the race for governor on the Democratic primary of May 26, 1959. Other announced candidates are Bert T. Combs, Prestonsburg, Wilson W. Wyatt, Louisville, and Hubert Carpenter, Louisville estate and trust consultant. Waterfield is from Clinton and backed by Gov. A. B. Chandler.

30 Million Ton Increase Seen in Soft Coal Tonnage

Bituminous coal production in the United States is expected to total 463 million tons in the 12 months starting July 1, the National Coal Association estimated today. The forecast represented an increase of 30 million tons from the 12 months now ending.

The prediction was based on an expected gradual upturn in industrial production beginning in the last half of 1958 and continuing into 1959. Coal production is closely tied to the general level of industrial activity and has been hurt by the current recession.

Recession Lowers Stockpiles
For calendar 1958, NCA's Committee on Coal Economics and Statistics predicted production of 420 million tons, contrasted with 490 million tons last year. The committee, revising an earlier prediction of 443 million tons for this year, said consumers have continued to lower their stockpiles, mainly because of the recession.

In the revised estimate for 1958, electric utilities were still the biggest users of coal, but their consumption was expected to decline slightly, for the first time since 1940, to 155 million tons. They used 157.4 million tons in 1957. The decline was blamed on extraordinary water supplies for hydroelectric power, increased availability of natural gas and heavy fuel oil, and use of more efficient coal-burning equipment.

The committee anticipated that the recent upturn in steel production would continue, with an estimated 85 million tons of coal used to produce coke this year, and another seven million tons consumed by steel and rolling mills. The cement industry is expected to use eight million tons, other industrial users, 80 million tons, railroads, four million tons, and the retail market, 33 million tons.

Shipment of coal to Canada this year is forecast at 14 million tons, and overseas exports are expected to total 39 million tons.

Blast Fails To Open Safe

Thieves who broke into the Jewell Ridge Coal Co. commissary, Saturday night, failed to blast open a safe, Perry County Sheriff Paul Amis reported today.

Sheriff Amis said this morning that although the thieves set off a stick of dynamite, the charge failed to blast open the door.

Amis reported that dresses and pillow from the store were used to muffle the blast and were destroyed when the dynamite exploded. The blast blew the safe handle off the door, he said.

Entrance to the commissary was gained, Sheriff Amis reported, through a basement door.

He noted the thieves apparently fled from the building when "someone scared them off." Nothing was missing from the store yesterday, Sheriff Amis said.

Thieves Enter Typo Grocery

The county's sheriff office is investigating a break-in at the Hill's Grocery, Typo, Sheriff Paul Amis reported this morning.

Entrance was gained Sunday night by breaking out a front window. An inventory is being taken to determine the extent of the loss.

Truck Mines Must Mechanize

Mechanization was seen as the salvation of the coal truck mining industry by Arlie E. Hayes, Hi Hat, president of one of Eastern Kentucky's largest metal fabricating plants.

Hayes discussed problems facing the coal truck mining industry at a meeting of the Huntington Truckers Association, which was held in the Frederik Hotel, Huntington, West Virginia, last week.

Hayes said that the large rail mines, with modern mining machinery, were now producing 35 to 40 tons of coal per man per day, and were looking forward to production, with even better machinery, of 85 to 100 tons per man per day.

He compared this with present average truck mine production of 10 to 15 tons per man per day.

"Unless truck mines can match or approach the per man coal production of the large mechanized mines, they can not survive in the present highly competitive coal market," Hayes said.

The type of equipment necessary to increase truck mine per man production, was described by Hayes as being "smaller mine."

Leslie Deputy Killed

6 Men Held

A Leslie County deputy sheriff was killed and a fellow deputy was wounded by shot-gun blasts Saturday night on Jack's Creek, 17 miles south of Hyden.

Millard Brock, 51, died after receiving wounds in the right side of his neck and shoulder, and Floyd Feltner was wounded in the neck while they were on a routine patrol about 11:30 p.m. Saturday. Feltner was released from the hospital after treatment.

Another deputy, William Collett, was with Brock and Feltner at the time of the shooting.

According to State Police Detective Lester Mahoney, who investigated the incident, six men are being held in connection with the shooting. Two are in the Perry County jail.

Mahoney said all six were found drinking in two cars less than 50 feet from where the shooting occurred. It has not been determined who fired the shots, and State Police are continuing the investigation.

Man Injured When Car Rolls After Chase

A Clinton, Ky., resident was injured here when a car driven by Winfred Ray Combs, 231 Sherman St., Dayton, Ohio, overturned into a creek bed at Tribbey, Saturday night.

Admitted to the Hazard Miners Memorial Hospital for treatment of minor injuries was Donald D. Napier.

The driver of the car was arrested by State Police on "numerous charges," including reckless driving and speeding.

State Police reported the accident happened when Combs was being pursued by a trooper on Ky. 15.

70 M.P.H. Chase

State Police started pursuit of Combs one-half mile north of Duane when they sighted him driving on the wrong side of the road.

Combs sped away at 70 miles an hour, according to State Police. He turned up Tribbey Hollow and his car overturned into a creek bed when a tire blew out on the Tribbey railroad tracks. State Police reported the car was a complete loss.

Accident At Jeff

In an accident, Friday afternoon, no one was injured when two cars collided at 2 p.m. three miles south of Jeff on Ky. 7.

According to State Police, a car driven by Mrs. Eli Brashear of Viper, pulled out of a side road and was struck by one driven by Delvert Lewis, of Viper. Mrs. Brashear was cited for failure to yield right of way.

$201,968 Budget Passed By County

A Perry Fiscal Court, pinched for funds and committed to the high cost of government today, approved a $201,968 balanced budget for fiscal year 1958-59.

This year's budget is surpassed by last year's only because of a $67,840 item in the 1957-58 budget for flood disaster funds.

Approval of the budget came during a four-hour session of the fiscal court, Saturday afternoon, at the Courthouse.

To arrive at a balanced budget, the court was forced to eliminate a $15,000 appropriation for debt service and plow this amount into the general fund.

$19,000 For Magistrates

Also included in the budget is the appropriation of $19,000 in salaries for the county magistrates. Whether the figure is valid and will remain in the budget depends on the Kentucky Court of Appeals where a contest suit on magistrate salaries is now pending.

But for a 10-cent levy for the Health Fund, county tax rates remain the same.

Taxes To Bring $169,002

Tax levies are estimated in the budget to account for $169,002 of the county's operating revenue. Estimates on the other sources of income are: delinquent tax receipts, $800; truck licenses, $14,400; fines and forfeitures, $2,000; beer licenses, $10,000; legal process refund, $800; election refund, $2,320; two-cent timber tax, $2,586. Of the county's budget, $40,531 is automatically committed to the road and bridge fund; $20,265 to the health fund and $2,586 to the forestry fund.

110,346 In General Fund

The balance of $110,346 goes into the general fund.

Here, general government gets $70,006; law enforcement, $18,000; health and sanitation, $400; hospitals, charities and correctional institutions, $10,500; libraries and other educational activities, $4,940; and miscellaneous, $6,500.

Last year's budget provided $63,790 for general government; $15,000 for law enforcement; $950 for health and sanitation; $9,350 for hospitals, charities and corrections; $8,940 for libraries and educational activities; $350 for debt service; and $4,695 for miscellaneous.

Salaries Account For Increase

While the general fund in the new budget ($110,346), reflects an increase over last year's ($101,075), most of the increase is traceable to the salaries voted the magistrates earlier this year.

Appropriations to the county judge's office were slashed from $10,550, last year's figures, to $7,900 in the new budget.

Other cuts in appropriations to the various offices are also reflected in the new budget. Appropriations to the office of county clerk are $9050 in the new budget as against $7,800 last year. The sheriff's office will get $2,500 this year as against $3,500 last year.

Appropriations to the county tax commissioner were cut by $69 from $1,600. Other reductions are as follows: figure in parenthesis is appropriation in last year's budget: Board of Supervisors, $75, ($200); county treasurer, $900, ($1000); county auditor, $1,300, ($1,700); law library, $600, ($920); courthouse $14,800, ($15,800); circuit court, $800 ($3,400); election expenses, $6,700, ($10,000); coronor, $2,400, ($2,600); legal expense $0,00, ($400); health and sanitation, $400, ($950); libraries and other educational services, $4,940, ($6,940).

Few Get Increases

Appropriations were increased in the new budget for the office of county attorney, the magistrates, the jailor, and charities hospitals and correctional institutions.

The appropriation to the county attorney's office in the new budget is $4,250 as against $2,320 last year. Most of the increase is accounted for in the salary for a full-time secretary to the county attorney and in supplies for the office.

Magistrate salaries, voted the court at $19,000 early this year, accounted for $2,000 in last year's budget. Last year, however, magistrates realized their salaries from fees, a practice abolished by the Court of Appeals.

Appropriations to the jailor this year are $18,000 as against $18,000 last year.

Defense Appeals Life Verdict; New Witness Turns Up in Case

Six Jurors Listed As Not Being On Perry Tax Roles

A new trial has been requested by Defense Attorney Carl Eversole for Curt Colwell and Elmer Kilburn, convicted in circuit court last week for the December slaying of Miss Lillie Valentine at her tavern in Combs.

Eversole listed six grounds for a new trial in his petition filed with Circuit Judge Courtney C. Wells Friday.

Judge Wells said Saturday he will rule on the appeal sometime this week. He can grant the new trial, or reject it but leave the door open for Kilburn and Colwell to appeal the case to the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Colwell and Kilburn were given life sentences by a Perry County jury last week.

New Witness Found

Eversole list these points in his request for a new trial:

1. The verdict is contrary to law and the evidence and a result of passion and prejudice.
2. One member of the jury, Robert Oaks, separated himself from the jury in the course of the trial.
3. Six members of the jury are not listed as taxpayers.
4. One member of the jury had expressed his opinion of the case before being called for jury duty.
5. New material and a new witness.
6. Rights of the defendants were prejudiced by remarks made before the jury by the Commonwealth Attorney.

The new witness, Elmer Begley, of Wootton (Leslie County), according to Eversole's petition, will testify that he saw Aaron Thomas fire the two shots that killed Mrs. Valentine and injured her son-in-law, Paul Napier.

Begley Feared For Life

Begley, according to the petition, was standing in front of the Kilburn Restaurant the evening of the slaying, and saw Thomas drive past the Valentine tavern in the direction of Hyden. According to the petition, Begley has told the defense attorney that Thomas turned around, halted in front of the restaurant and fired the shots, and then fled toward Hazard.

The petition notes that Begley "kept quiet" in the case because he feared for his life. Begley's knowledge of the shooting, the petition states, did not become known to the defense until 8 p.m., Wednesday, June 25, several hours after the jury returned the life verdict.

After seeing the shooting, Begley and a companion, Ronald Duff, fled to Leslie County.

Thomas, during last week's trial, repudiated a confession admitting the murder. Thomas, under sentence at LaGrange, made the confession to Warden Dan Gray. During the trial, Thomas testified that he confessed to the crime because an inmate at the prison told him his son would be killed if he didn't take the blame for the murder.

Comment Hurt Defendants

The comment made by Commonwealth Attorney Talbot Combs which was cited in the petition as prejudicial to the defendants, went as follows:

"And if you conclude that they were not guilty, of course, they will have to be turned loose, but if you free them—I don't believe you will—I don't see how you could, we'd better run home and set up guards around our homes, because boys, our lives here won't be safe—they won't be safe—I don't know who will be next—I hope its nobody."

New Witness Will Testify Thomas Shot Mrs. Valentine

Combs' comment was made to the jury during concluding arguments in the case, but was stricken from the court record by Judge Wells. The petition notes that while Judge Wells told the jury not to consider the remark, prejudice was still created in the minds of the jurors.

Oaks Left Jurors For Hat

The juror who superated himself from other members of the jury, the petition lists as Robert Oaks. Oaks reportedly walked away from the jury as they were going to dinner the evening of June 24. The incident occurred in the courtroom as other jurors were leaving by the main door. Oaks, the petition says, strolled back down the aisle of the courtroom to get his hat. The petition also claims he spoke to two people for "two or three seconds." Affidavits to Oaks' action were filed by Ted Brewer, Bud Kilburn, father of the defendant, and Fred Moore.

The petition lists D. B. Feltner as the juror who has formed an opinion in the case. According to the petition, Feltner told Brack Hoskins before either of the two had been called for jury duty:

"I don't see how in the... anybody could see through the curtains and them pulled down and see anybody on the outside."

Curtains At Tavern Window

Feltner referred to the curtains which hung at the window of the Valentine tavern.

The jurymen who the petition lists as not being taxpayers are Feltner, W. A. Wheeler, Lige Moore, Mrs. Charlie Shepherd, Frank Salyers and Wheeler Goin.

Jaycees Are Realists For Endorsing Trade Body

The Hazard Junior Chamber of Commerce's board of directors went on record last week as endorsing the "reactivation" of the Perry County Chamber of Commerce.

As the public probably knows, it was the Junior Chamber of Commerce which years ago gave birth to the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. In any number of cities throughout the State, Jaycees have also been instrumental in developing city and county chambers.

It is not without significance, therefore, that the Hazard Jaycees have asked that the county's Chamber of Commerce be reactivated.

We have been told that until recently, the Chamber of Commerce here was a highly active organization, one that "got things done." The history of what became of this group is well known to all. The Chamber linked arms with the Perry County Development Association and soon became nothing more than a line on an organizational chart.

The P.C.D.A. took up where the Chamber left off, unquestionably accomplished much for the city, and then last year, after a couple of meetings, lapsed into obscurity.

While all of this was going on, there came into being the Hazard Better Businessmen's Association, an organization designed to promote the interests of the retail businesses.

The results of all this is that the leadership which should have been conspicuous in one organization was soon spread throughout three associations, each bound together in purpose if not in membership.

Businesses were being asked to join and pay dues to three associations—a needless waste of money. Obtaining members became a task for each association. And as was to be expected, local businesses soon lost track of which club they had joined or even if they were members.

Three meetings to attend instead of one!

Six committees to serve on instead of two!

Three times as much money for dues!

Is it any wonder that our business community soon lost interest in the H.B.B.A., the P.C.D.A. and the Chamber of Commerce, all three worthwhile in purpose but strained for leadership and financial and moral support.

Let us hope that the business community of Perry County gives serious thought to what the Jaycees are suggesting. An active Chamber of Commerce in Perry County is needed for tourist promotion, community development, industrial development and any number of important projects upon which depends the economic progress of this region.

Roving Reporter Reports

Demire of Walkertown School Recalls Schooldays of Part

Having roved, for almost a week, I will now report.

No I won't, either. I'll comment. The road to Blackey now resembles a paved road, thanks to the State Highway Department. Also, holes are being patched in the Leatherwood, promising further repair, and closer home, the very short piece of road at the other end of the bridge at Walkertown is no longer a threat to oil pans and mufflers. Thanks, as far as I know, are again due the Highway Department. Thank you, Highway Department.

School Razing

The tearing down of the old Walkertown elementary school building is progressing handsomely. Little more than walls stand now. Destroying that school building is certainly not a recent proposal. I suggested, and even plotted, the same thing in 1943 at the destructive age of six. Fortunately, however, my sinister plot was foiled and my accomplices were deported to Hazard High School, via graduation, thus saving the building for future scholars. Now it is being removed as so much debris, leaving standing proudly alone a brand new structure on that clay knoll in Walkertown, perhaps as a symbol of the city's encouraging attitude toward education.

I think it would also be a good thing if about three-fourths of the county school buildings were destroyed similarly, if there was some way to insure that their absence would reveal a gleaming, modern, perhaps consolidated school immediately behind where the one-roomer stood.

Girls

Then there was the girl who was so dumb she thought Sherlock Holmes was a housing district.

Thank You, Judge

And thanks, too, to the Hon. Judge Courtney C. Wells, who so graciously provided members of the press with special seating arrangements in court this week, a gesture which aided greatly in reporting court happenings. The judge also permitted the use of a camera in his court, which allowed readers a better comprehension of court affairs. We hope that Judge Wells progressive attitude toward the role of newspapers in the court room will be an example to other courts in the county and state. His clerk, Mrs. Grace Strong, was also most gracious in rendering assistance to press members.

A word to all you June brides, I wonder if you ever questioned that man in regard to his recreation habits, such as fishing. I would say that maybe you are in for many disappointments if you haven't. Don't let this worry you, my advise to you is to rig up a fishing pole and take after him. This is the best cure I know of. Once you are a fisherman, always you will be. So get up at day light and follow him. You will not be sorry that you did, if he is a hunter learn something about his habits of hunting. If he is a frog hunter try to be understanding with his various types of sports.

Ladies believe me I introduced my wife to frog hunting the hard way. I led her into an area that was greatly infested with water snakes one night. Of course I know the type water snakes we have will not bother you. It seems that on this particular night I just don't recall that I have ever seen so many. We had to wade across a body of shallow water, going over we didn't see them, on our way back our lights seemed to attract them by the dozens. Fog had settled down about five feet from the river. I will always think that our lights reflected off the fog, gentlemen here they came. I am sure it was the lights that were causing it.

Ladies, you that are about to make this journey, I am sure that my wife will tell you to this day to stay on the bank and not to make any crossings of a river unless you are in a boat. Here is congratulations to all of you both gals and boys that are making a new career in life, that is saying I do. I am sure that as time passes on that you will find that both of you will have to give and take a little in regard to the outdoor problems that the man in your life will have. Be patients with him. I could suggest many other ways that he could be wasting his time. I firmly believe that any man that loves the streams, the fields for his recreation will make a good husband. I would say gals it is up to you.

Dreaming

This must have happened to my friend, Grayson Vanover a few days ago, he states that he was leaning on a parking meter, where his car was parked, before he knew it he had received a parking ticket. Grayson, I would say your mind must have been wandering up Michigan way, or some other good fishing trip way. Speaking of Michigan, I am sure Grayson was thinking of his daughter and grand daughter, of course his son-in-law comes in this category also. So Grayson don't feel too bad about getting the ticket. You know these balmy spring days can do a lot to anyone after such a hard winter as we have had. It wouldn't surprise me to hear of some of you taking off to the old swimming hole, the same way as you did in your boyhood days. So don't become alarmed to what might happen to many of us at this time of the year. You could be caught making love to the old lady. Remember spring brings on many things after a hard winter.

Telephone Rate Requests Are Out of Line

For four weeks now, this newspaper has sat idly by in anticipation that the first voice to be raised would not be ours. Apparently, however, our expectation that city and county officials would take action is in vain.

Of what do we speak? The boost in telephone rates requested by General Telephone Co. of Kentucky.

The Lebanon Enterprise has hit the proverbial nail on the head with an editorial which we here endorse 100 percent.

We quote:

Rising Prices Scarcely News

"Rising prices of goods and services are scarcely news. Even in this so-called recession, businesses of all types have been forced to boost prices in order to meet increased costs of operation. Public utilities are no exception for, like any other business, they are entitled to a reasonable return on their investment.

"For that reason, there are but few who will deny that General Telephone Company of Kentucky is justified in asking the Public Service Commission to approve a general rate increase here and in 29 other Kentucky counties (Perry County included). Since the effective date of its last rate increase more than five years ago, General has increased its Kentucky plant investment by 22 million. Further more, the company plans to spend an additional $15 million within the next year and a half. In light of that situation, a reasonable rate increase seems no more than fair."

(Here in Perry County, the company is building a new, exchange and will introduce dial telephones to the region next February.)

"But the new rate schedule which the P.S.C. has been asked to approve exceeds our definition of "reasonable."

In Perry County, rates are to be increased as much as 40 percent, according to the schedule announced by the company. We wonder if this increase is justified, or if the company considers it a "reasonable" increase in phone rates.

County, City Asked To Protest

As was pointed out in the Lebanon Enterprise, "it is probably a safe assumption to say that the company does not expect its new rate schedule to be approved in full, and so has deliberately set its request high in order that it might still have a reasonable increase after the P.S.C. has done a pruning job. That's no more than good business, and not many will fault the company for using that tactic."

We would leave this thought, however, if no protest is raised by Perry Counties, you couldn't blame the P.S.C. for going ahead and giving General Telephone the full increase. That protest must come from our city and county government. T.W.L.

Mike Lasslo and The "Candy Aspirin"; The Communists and My Wife

Fred W. Luigart Jr.

There's one thing about children. They're usually brighter than we give them credit for. An example is the incident of what happened to Mike Lasslo, 2½ year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Lasslo.

Seems Mike went "candy" hunting at home last week and before he was through he had his parents in a dither.

Mike spied his candy on a shelf "much to high for him to reach." But being only 2, he didn't know he couldn't reach the shelf, so he just pulls up a nearby chair and proceeds to hist the 'candy.'

When discovered by his parents, there he was eating baby aspirin—one-half the bottle gone. Dr. Boggs and the stomach pump remedied things.

"But, Honey, Ain't No Huks Here"

Reading the Courier Journal last week, I ran across an article on Luis Taruc, Communist leader of the Philippine rebels following World War II. And it reminded me of why my wife never believes anything I tell her.

Uncle Sam sent me to the Philippines in the early part of 1952 while Taruc was still at large. His forces were not as strong as they had been in the post-war years, but he still had around 6,000 loyal followers.

I arrived at Clark Air Force Base in February, and Betty joined me there in June.

In the interim, I constantly wrote back that Taruc was a has-been. I assured her he was not operating in the vicinity of our base, Clark Field, and had been confined by Philippine troops to the most inaccessible mountains of the islands. And so help me, this was the truth!

Lo and behold, the day Betty arrives at Clark, if Taruc's forces and the government troops don't have a minor skirmish within yards of our house near the base. Bullets whizzed all over the place and for the entire night we hugged the floor.

The next morning, Betty's only comment was:

"You and your journalistic ethics

about truth!"

So while Taruc may never have made Communist out of the Filipinos, he sure made one devil of a liar out of me!

LETTER

Reader Answers Letter

Dear Sir:

Just read Ernest Vermillion's letter. I think he is wrong when he says juveniles should have the death penalty at the age of 16. I don't think so. Lots of children are not taught right and are never taken to church or Sunday School. The first place the know is the moving picture show and also they read all kind of books. I think a boy of 16 could someday make a good man.

I don't think our counties should be wet either. I know the world is in a bad shape. There aren't enough praying people, which is what's wrong with the world.

He was also talking about the Jack Legs getting work. Vermillion must be a young man. I have gone to the scrip window many times and waited for my time to come then only get $2.00. So hold out men. Ask your old fathers. They will tell you.

PAPER PULPIT

The wisdom of this world says that if there is a God Jesus is not His Son. Lots of people believe there is a God, but don't believe Jesus is God.

But if Jesus was not His Son, a man was as good as God. Can you imagine a God any better than Jesus? Now that God has come you cannot by-pass Him. To say, "I know God, but Jesus isn't God," is the same as saying, "I'm a friend of John Doe, but I don't speak to him when I meet him on the street." Jesus was God down on the street where we can meet Him. If you know God, you speak to Jesus.

Jesus said, "Every man that has learned of the Father comes to me. No man cometh unto the Father but by me." —Winn T. Barr.

"Go Boys' Beacon"

Arthur Miniard is shown with his youngest horse, Go Boy's Beacon. The upright ears are a sign of good breeding, Miniard says.

Prize-Winning Tennessee Walkers Are Hobby of Leatherwood, Arthur Miniard

Miniard Horse Has Won 43 First Place Ribbons

Beautiful women having been standard in this part of the country for ages, Arthur Miniard has in the past five years seen to it that horses are recognized here, too. This makes the oft-repeated phrase about Kentucky's horses and women apply to Eastern Kentucky as well as the Bluegrass.

Miniard, a retired school teacher who runs a general store and drive-in restaurant at Sleep near Leatherwood, is owner of three Tennessee Walking Horses that are forever adding to a growing number of prize ribbons, won in shows throughout Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee and West Virginia.

His prize horse, Skinner's Folly, sired by a former world champion Walking Horse, has 43 blue first place ribbons to her credit and has never failed to bring home a ribbon in her 85 times in the show ring.

Another up-coming champion owned by Miniard is Corregidor, who has 17 ribbons won in 17 shows; five of these are for first place. This gelding's most recent showing was last Friday night at Berea.

Miniard said that all his horses are registered, and all have royal blood in their veins. His youngest horse, Go Boy's Beacon, a 13 month old chestnut animal with a blaze of white streaking down his head, is also of world champion heritage. His grandfather was grand champion Merry Go Boy.

Miniard has owned six different horses since he became a Walking Horse enthusiast five years ago.

Walking Horses are judged in the shows on their precision in running, walking and cantering. Mr. Miniard explained that the Walking Horse breed sprang from the old plantation horses, ridden by plantation owners and foremen as they supervised their land. The horse is distinctive for its vigorous head-shaking while in a flat-footed walk. Willie Chapman, a retired miner from Lothair, worked with Mr. Miniard as trainer and rider for four years. Mr. Miniard complimented Chapman as "one of the best trainers in the country."

Miniard's present trainer is "Shorty" Teague, a professional from Williamsburg. Teague has been working with Corregidor recently, getting him ready for the Berea show. Teague rode for Ringling Brother's Circus five years.

Tennessee Walkers Have Brought Fame To Owner

The trainer usually rides in the shows, but occasionally Miniard himself rides, just for the fun of it. His 15-year-old daughter, DeRonda, is also developing into a qualified show rider.

When trainer Teague does not have a horse in training at Williamsburg, the horses are kept in a small, brown stable near Mr. Miniard's attractive brick home on the Leatherwood road going to Cumberland. The horses are fed regular horse and mule feed, and are not pampered beyond having a dry, comfortable stable and patient care from their owner.

Miniard said he is strictly amateur in the horse business, and follows the hobby purely for fun. His horses have competed in professional competition, however, and been good enough to beat the professionals. Miniard enters about three shows a month during the summer show season.

He says he plans to continue showing his horses in the future, following about the same procedure without any major plans for expansion. "I do it just for pleasure," he says, and his pleasure is evident when he talks about his Walking Horses and the ribbons they have won.

Two Cadets Take Training; Garrison Assigned To West Point

Two Perry Countians have been assigned to the U.S. Army Reserve Officers Training Corp camp at Fort Knox for the six-week field training course which will continue until Aug. 1.

They are James W. Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Owens, Route 1, a junior at Western Kentucky State, and Christopher C. Combs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Combs, of 602 Broadway, a senior at the University of Virginia.

Major General John L. Ryan, Jr., Commanding General of the Armor Center and Commandant of the Armor School emphasized that the cadets will undergo an intensive period of practical field training designed to prepare him for the responsibilities of a commissioned officer. Included in the over-all program are marksmanship with a variety of weapons, tactical exercises, and actual command of military units in the field.

On graduation they will be eligible for a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army.

Robert Garrison

School Is Out But Some Are Still Working

School is out, that is true, but still some vocational home economics teachers are still working as well as home economics students.

The vocational Home Economics program improves personal, home and family living through providing instruction in homemaking to prospective and established homemakers. This program provides instruction for in-school groups through classes, home visits, home experiences, Future Homemakers and new homemakers of America organizations and school and community activities.

For many years homemaking or home economics was thought of as a program of cooking and sewing. With our changing world this can no longer be so. Homemaking has become a career in itself, and the homemaker must be a well informed buyer, nurse, manager, child care expert, home-decorator and counselor. We are trying to prepare the students as best we can, to meet these tasks. Therefore class instructions includes instruction in the seven areas of homemaking namely, child care, clothing, foods, health, housing, management, and personal and family relationships.

Visits to homes of pupils are made for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with home situations and the needs of pupils and of helping pupils make use of class instruction in their homes.

Through supervised home experiences or home projects, pupils see the relationship of class instruction to real homemaking activities. Home projects supplement class instruction and provide another means of reaching the goals of the homemaking education program.

The Future and new homemakers of America are organizations for home economics pupils. These organizations are working for better home life for everyone. These groups are learning to live better today so that their lives and those of their families will be better tomorrow; thus, they are building strong foundation for future homes. Activities carried on by these groups help develop leadership and the ability to work with others and provide another means for working toward the goals of the homemaking education program.

Just recently the state meeting was held in Western Teachers College Campus at Bowling Green. Kay Francis Martin, of Sturgis, was elected president of the Kentucky Future Homemakers of America.

School and community activities, such as the school lunch program offer many educational experiences for pupils. Home economics programs include a number of school and community experiences that will contribute to the goals of homemaking education program such as cooperating with health departments, serving dinners and carrying on educational activities connected with the school lunch program.

Vocational home economics provide instruction for adults through individual help and organized group instruction for young and adult homemakers. The purpose of the program for out-of-school groups are to help adults to improve homemaking practices and to adjust homemaking practices to changing conditions.

As I said in the beginning Home Economics students are still working doing things they like to do to develop greater names of only a few of the girls, and the projects they are carrying on as a summer experience.

Recipe Of The Week

Pineapple Colelaw
4 c shredded cabbage
2 c pineapple chunks
1/2 c mayonnaise
1/4 c syrup from pineapple
2 t prepared mustard
2 t salt
1 t grated onion
Dash cayenne pepper

Shred cabbage; chill and as cabbage and lettuce, are excellent sources of vitamin C. Combine mayonnaise, syrup from pineapple, mustard, salt, grated onion and cayenne pepper. Blend thoroughly. Add mayonnaise and pineapple chunks to cabbage, toss lightly just before serving. Serves six.

Menu: Fried chicken, potato salad, pineapple colelaw, rolls, butter and ice cream with peaches.

has a vegetable garden and a few fruit trees. From the variety of fruits and vegetables eaten raw, an ample supply of vitamin C can probably be obtained during the summer months, says UK Extension food specialists.

Green leafy vegetables, such as cabbage and lettuce, are excellent sources of vitamin C. but holding them at room temperature for a few days will cause them to lose about 50 percent of this important vitamin. However, if they are held at about 38 degrees, they will lose little value.

In a salad containing cabbage, crisp it in ice water before chopping it, then combine with the other ingredients just before serving it.

Canoe Merchant Of Pioneer Days

Clara G. Kelly

Boyd Campbell, of Combs, tells us that his father, Adam D. Campbell, was a "Canoe Merchant." By this he means that in the early 1880's his father brought his merchandise upstream by canoes and small one-man ferry boats from Athol.

When the L. & N. Railroad was extended to Jackson, larger push boats were built. It took 5 men to handle a boat that would bring in 20,000 pounds of merchandise business. All of his six children were merchants.

Then out of their 37 children, 22 of them were merchants.

However, it now seems that they are drifting away from the merchandise business and are majoring in education.

Boyd tells us that four of his six children are either teachers or are preparing for the teaching profession and 5 of his 15 grandchildren are either in college or are preparing to enter.

Uncle John Wootton underwent surgery last night at the Mt. Mary Hospital. He is seriously ill again and it looks like he has a slim chance of recovery. Let's remember him in our prayers.

Visitors from Silver Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jacobson and daughter, Mitzel Kay, have returned to their home in Silver Springs, Md., after a two weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kelly.

Little Miss Darona Feltner has returned to her home in Dayton, Ohio after visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Feltner. Susie told me that she had to be Darona's playmate while she was here.

Mrs. Bobby Baker and children are visiting her parents, in Scottsburg, Ind.

BASEBALL ROUND-UP

Hazard Bounds Into First Place In Summer League

Benny Fitzpatrick

The Hazard High Bulldogs picked up three victories over the week to pick up a half game lead on Dilce Combs. Hazard headed Dilce's ace southpaw, Paul Flinchum, his first defeat with a 7-6 victory.

They then followed with a 34-9 rout of Buckhorn and a 7-0 forfeit over Leatherwood. In the Hazard-Buckhorn game, the cannie sprayed 23 hits led by Astor "Cat" Sizemore five hits and Darwin Turpins 4 hits. Sizemore ran his batting average up to .450 and has won four games without a defeat on the round.

Standings	W	L
Hazard	5	1
Dilce	4	1
Leatherwood	3	3
Buckhorn	2	4
Napier	0	5

Dilce's Paul Flinchum has hurled a no-hitter and a one-hitter against Leatherwood and Napier banged out 2 hits in their 11-0 defeat. Flinchum has a wide assortment of pitches, but his bread and butter is a blazing fast ball. Flinchum has chalked up an average of 15 strike outs a game, the same as Hazard's "Cat" Sizemore.

Indians Blast Dodgers
The Indians, running up the highest score in Little League 1958, literally swamped the Dodgers. As Dan Bowen, undefeated Dodger pitcher, toes the mound against the Indians Phil Copeland, a good pitching duel was expected. The Indians went to work on Bowen and reliever Bobby Muncy with 6 runs in the second, 10 in the fourth and 6 in the fifth. With this 23-13 decision, Copeland upped his record to 3 and 2.

Bowen is now 2 and 1. Copeland also collected 4 hits and Elmer Combs had 3 hits including his third homer of the season. Rose and Wyrick picked up 2 hits to lead the Dodgers.

The Yanks jumped off to a quick 3-0 lead in the first on Don Nucel 3-run home run, his fifth of the season. The Yanks ran the score to 5-0 after four innings as Ken Tate had allowed only one hit till that time. The Braves picked up three runs in the fifth but the Yanks picked up two more in the sixth and went into the bottom of the sixth with a 7-3 lead. Tate issued three straight walks. Bill Morgan relieved and walked in a run, struck out one, then Charles Allen doubled and the score was 7-7.

Allen moved to third and scored on Mike Holliday Texas League single over the short-stop's head.

COUNTY AGENTS NOTES

4-H'ers Should Notify Agent If They Plan To Attend Camp

Paul Keen, County Agricultural Extension Agent

John Caudill, Associate County Agricultural Extension Agent

Strawberry Tour

Isaac Noble and his son, Arnold accompanied the associate agent on a 4-H Strawberry trip to Cincinnati on June 16-17. The group and the Cincinnati Produce Market. They also saw the Cincinnati Redleg Baseball game.

4-H members and leaders from five counties where 4-H Club members are enrolled in the Sears Roebuck Foundation sponsored strawberry projects made the trip.

The second and third year production of your strawberries will be almost as good as the first if proper steps are taken. Labor requirements will be less and good profits expected if you have no serious diseases and insects.

Renew your patch immediately after picking is finished. It consists of the following steps:

1. Mow tops being careful not to clip buds.
2. Rake off tops and excess mulch and trash.
3. Broadcast about 800 pounds of 10-10-10, 12-12-12, or 14-14-14 fertilizer per acre. Brush fertilizer off foliage after applying to avoid injury to plants.
4. Narrow the old matted row to a width of 16 to 18 inches with a small turning plow. Plow furrows away from matted row. Then plow center of balk with a rastus or double shovel to level.

The rows may be narrowed with any light plow, cultivator, or rototiller if a small plow is not available. In either case, narrow old matted row to 16 to 18 inches width.

Cultivation after renovation will be same as last year.

Peach Tree Borer Control

A very effective means of controlling peach tree borer is to spray the trunks and crotches of the tree with DDT. For the past several years we have found that either of these two materials has been more effective against this pest than P.D.B. For the most effective control, sprays should be applied about July 1, Aug. 1, and Sept. 1.

Use 6 pounds of 50% wettable DDT per 100 gallons of water, or four or five tablespoons DDT per gallon water. The entire trunks and crotches should be sprayed thoroughly and with good pressure. This borer is a pest which comes every year, and if your trees are to be kept in a healthy condition, its control is an absolute must. Don't neglect it.

4-H Club Camp

The annual 4-H Club Camp for 4-H members 12 years of age or older will be held at Quicksand, July 14-18. Special features of camp will include all types of recreation, swimming in Jackson Municipal Pool, handicrafts, vespers, folk games, singing and other interesting features. County school buses

14, Bulan E. Poore, 28, Insurance adjuster, and Eunice Dixon 30, both of Hazard.

R. B. Combs, 17, and Anna Lee McIntosh, 18, both of butterfly.

Kelly Sandlin, 29, coal miner, and Rachel Collins, 18, both of Chavies.

1780—HOW FRANKFORT GOT ITS NAME

In 1780, a party of Kentucky pioneers set out from Bryant's Station to get new supplies of salt at Mann's Lick. While camping at a ford of the Kentucky River where Frankfort stands today, the party was attacked by Indians. One of the party, Mr. Stephen Frank, was killed instantly and several others were injured. From this fatal encounter the ford came to be known as "Frankford." Later, it was legally changed to Frankfort.

In Kentucky's historic past, just as today, many of our citizens have always enjoyed a glass of beer. The brewing industry makes jobs for thousands of our residents. The sale of this light, bright beverage of moderation under orderly conditions is an important objective of the United States Brewers Foundation. Our continuing educational program helps beer retailers maintain their high standards.

Use Of Potatoes For Summer Needs

Au gratin potatoes, as creamy and delicious as your own traditional favorite, can be quickly combined and baked in just 20 minutes. The secret of the quick au gratin potatoes is the use of frozen French fries in combination with a flavorful sauce and cheese. The potatoes are the same versatile product which most of us keep on hand for crisp French fries for meal and snack service around the clock. These precooked, ready-peeled and no-muss potatoes may also be the basis for casseroles, soups and salads.

Creamy and nutritious au gratin potatoes make summer family meals hearty and satisfying. Yet, with this quick recipe, preparation time is at a minimum. A flavorful white sauce and a sprinkling of cheese tops the French fries as taken from the package. The layers are repeated, and crushed corn flakes provide a crisp edging. Baking time is only 20 minutes to produce a casserole bubbling hot and delicious to please a hungry family.

Au Gratin Potatoes—In 20 Min.
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
3 cups milk
1-1/2 teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
2 9 oz. packages Frozen French Fries
8 oz. finley grated American cheese
1/2 cup buttered crushed corn flakes

Melt butter or margarine over low heat; stir in flour and seasonings. Blend in milk and cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Spread 1/2 of frozen french fries over bottom of 1-1/2 quart flat baking dish. Cover with 1/2 of sauce and sprinkle with 1/2 of the cheese. Repeat. Sprinkle corn flakes around edge of dish. Bake in hot oven (400°) until heated through, about 20 minutes.

Libraries and educational services were cut from $6,940 for fiscal 1957-58 to $4,940 in the new budget. Economy measures were taken in appropriations to the county agency, down to $3,940 from $4,280.

U. S. 25

U.S. Highway 25, locally called the Eastern Dixie Highway, reveals a typical cross-section of Kentucky. It crosses the low wooded hills of the Ohio River, passes rolling orchard land and prosperous country estates with waving bluegrass meadows and between the great gorge cut by the Kentucky River and the rugged foothills of the Appalachians, and follows Daniel Boone's Wilderness Road.

Space Utilization Gives More Rooms

The reward for good space utilization is usually good size rooms or extras. This home is well balanced between the two. Boasting a generous sized fireplace and commanding a panoramic view of the front yard, the 22 foot living room is the home's pivot. One side of this room gets some traffic but it is well away from the main furniture groupings. With the kitchen nook a separate area, there's good old-fashioned roominess in the kitchen. Contributing to this area's spaciousness is special accommodations for complete built-in equipment. The three bright bedrooms are generous in size and are all designed to permit a variety of furniture groupings. Note also the especially generous wardrobe closets in the two larger bedrooms.

Perfect Accessory For Patio Living

It's always a pity to dine indoors when the simplest meal can be turned into a festive event right in your own backyard. Nor is there any reason to put off the pleasure of enjoying comfortable garden furniture because "it costs too much." The slimmest budget can now afford this attractive table and other pieces of garden furniture. The one illustrated was designed for fun and easy storage. Don't worry about its being exposed to the elements. This table can "take it." The top is made in two parts, hinged at center, so it can be folded when not in use. Since wing nuts and bolts are used to fasten the table together, it can be dismantled in a matter of minutes for winter storage. The pattern now available provides full size templates for all parts and takes all the mystery out of building it can be built to six, eight or ten foot lengths.
